INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

A Key to Sustainable Competitiveness

IS OFFERING INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES, BEIJING, CHINA

About IP Key: IP Key ("Intellectual Property: A Key to Sustainable Competitiveness") is a three year cooperation action running from July 2013 - June 2016 intended to make China's intellectual property (IP) framework more effective, fair, transparent, and otherwise based upon best practices. The action is funded by the European Union and implemented and co-funded by the Office for Harmonization in the Internal Market (OHIM) in partnership with the European Patent Office (EPO). IP Key aims to meet its objective via implementing a number of activities covering all types of IP rights that advocate for enhancements in the Chinese IP system and provide awareness on the workings of the Chinese and European IP systems. Examples of activities include:

- Contributing to technical files for the EU-China IP Dialogue, IP Working Group and IP Task Force;
- Assisting in drafting and revising legal texts;
- Promoting and facilitating exchanges on best practice and sustainable cooperation between EU and Chinese officials, legal and other experts, and judges;
- Organising workshops and capacity building events on various IP-related topics involving EU and/or Chinese stakeholders;
- Compiling and publishing manuals, best practice guides, learning modules, case studies and other resources for governments and industry on various IP-related issues,
- Promoting the European IP system in Chinese fora and vice versa.
